

Future of Education Inspection

Schools Session

What is changing?

The Common Inspection Framework

Short Inspections

What is changing?

Substantial changes to the way that we inspect:

- A new Common Inspection Framework
- Short inspections for all good maintained schools and academies
- Short inspections also apply to good and outstanding special schools, pupil referral units and maintained nursery schools
- Full inspections for all non-association independent schools within three years

We will:

Do everything we can to remove the pressure for schools to 'get ready for inspection' – we want to see what you do daily for all of your pupils.

Headlines from our pilots

Learning from the pilot inspections

We have conducted over 80 pilots in schools over the last three terms – testing CIF section 5 inspections and short inspections

Lessons we learned from the pilots:

- Overriding emphasis on leadership and its impact
- Strengthening inspection of safeguarding
- The impact of personal development, behaviour and welfare on learning
- Greater emphasis upon current progress for groups of pupils in the school

Learning from the pilot inspections

What did we learn about short inspections?

- Short inspections reach secure conclusions
- The 'golden thread' is focusing on the impact of leaders and governors in key areas of school provision
- How to make the best use of the day in the school
- The importance of dialogue between HMI and leaders
- Ensuring we capture views from leaders, governors, staff and pupils in the short time available
- The format of the inspection report

You said, we did

Converting short inspections to full inspections

- We have reviewed our original proposal to convert a short inspection to a full section 5 inspection only where there is insufficient evidence the school is good, or there are concerns
- We will now also convert quickly to a full section 5 inspection where there is evidence that a school may have improved to outstanding.

The Common Inspection Framework

Inspectors will make four key judgements:

- Effectiveness of leadership and management
- Quality of teaching, learning and assessment
- Personal development, behaviour and welfare
- Outcomes for children and learners.

Where relevant, inspectors will also make judgements about:

- the effectiveness of the early years provision
- the effectiveness of 16 to 19 study programmes

And will state clearly whether safeguarding is effective.

- Emphasis on impact across all key judgements
- Impact of the culture of the school
- Importance of safeguarding as a golden thread throughout all judgements, including the testing of leaders' work to meet the new Prevent Duty
- The importance of a broad and balanced curriculum
- A brand new judgement personal development, behaviour and welfare
- Alignment of the judgements on early years and 16-19 study programmes

To be outstanding:

- the quality of teaching, learning and assessment must be outstanding
- all other key judgements should be outstanding. In exceptional circumstances, one of the key judgements may be good, as long as there is convincing evidence that the school is improving this area rapidly and securely towards outstanding.
- the school's thoughtful and wide-ranging promotion of pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development and their physical and well-being enables pupils to thrive safeguarding is effective.

The most important change here is the impact of the other three key judgements on overall effectiveness.

Effectiveness of leadership and management

Increased emphasis on:

CIF

- impact of leaders' work in developing and sustaining an ambitious culture and vision
- tackling mediocrity and using robust performance management to improve staff performance
- ensuring that safeguarding arrangements to protect pupils meet statutory requirements, promote their welfare and prevent radicalisation and extremism.

An example from the descriptor for grade 1:

Leaders and governors have a deep, accurate understanding of the school's effectiveness informed by the views of pupils, parents and staff. They use this to keep the school improving by focusing on the impact of their actions in key areas.

Teaching, learning and assessment

Increased emphasis on:

CIF

- the importance of developing pupils' knowledge, understanding and skills in all aspects of the curriculum and across key stages – not just English and mathematics
- assessment in all its forms.
- No grading of lesson observations removing myths

An example from the descriptor for grade 2:

Teachers use their secure subject knowledge to plan learning that sustains pupils' interest and challenges their thinking. They use questioning skilfully to probe pupils' responses and they reshape tasks and explanations so that pupils better understand new concepts. Teachers tackle misconceptions and build on pupils' strengths.

Personal development, behaviour and welfare

Personal development:

A key focus on pupils' self-confidence and self-awareness, and their understanding about how to be successful learners

An example from the descriptor for grade 1:

Pupils are confident, self-assured learners. Their excellent attitudes to learning have a strong, positive impact on their progress. They are proud of their achievements and of their school.

Behaviour:

CIF

- Emphasis on attitudes are pupils ready to learn?
- Behaviours that show respect for the school and other pupils
- Conduct and self-discipline

Personal development, behaviour and welfare

Welfare:

CIF

- Physical and emotional well-being, including healthy eating, fitness and mental health awareness
- Staying safe online
- Safe from all forms of bullying

An example from the descriptor for grade 1:

Pupils can explain accurately and confidently how to keep themselves healthy. They make informed choices about healthy eating, fitness and their emotional and mental well-being. They have an age-appropriate understanding of healthy relationships and are confident in staying safe from abuse and exploitation.

Key message:

- In judging outcomes, inspectors will give most weight to pupils' progress. They will take account of pupils' starting points in terms of their prior attainment and age when evaluating progress.
- Within this, they will give most weight to the progress of pupils currently in the school, taking account of how this compares with the progress of recent cohorts, where relevant.
- Inspectors will consider the progress of pupils in all year groups, not just those who have taken or are about to take examinations or national tests.

Judgements on early years and 16 to 19

Early years

CIF

- Two year olds on roll now inspected under section 5. Are practitioners knowledgeable about their typical development and characteristics?
- Comparability corresponds to the overall effectiveness judgement for other early years provision.

16-19 study programmes

- How study programmes build on prior attainment, stretch learners, provide effective careers guidance and prepare learners effectively for the next stage
- Comparability this area is judged in the same way as 16-19 provision in FE and skills providers.

Short inspections

Talking heads – experiences of pilot Short Inspections

Simon Eardley, Orton Wistow Primary School Paul McKeown, The Bishop of Winchester Academy Sarah Bennett, Two Mile Ash School

A different kind of inspection

- All short inspections are led by HMI for 1 day approximately every three years.
- One HMI in most primary schools; two HMI in secondary schools
- No requirement to prepare documentary evidence solely for inspection purposes. No preferred format for documentation.
- Two judgements: Is the school continuing to be a good school? Is safeguarding effective?
- If more evidence is needed to reach a decision, or there is evidence of improvement/decline, it will be converted to a section 5 inspection.
- A short inspection will not change any of the graded judgements for the school nor the overall effectiveness grade.

Short inspections

Professional dialogue between HMI and school leaders

- HMI will begin the discussions with leaders from the starting hypothesis that the school remains good.
- School leaders will need to demonstrate that the school is still good, where there are areas for development, and how they are tackling these.
- HMI will test leaders' and governors' assessment through a range of inspection activity including observations and discussion with pupils, staff, governors and parents.
- Professional dialogue with ongoing feedback to school leaders throughout the day.

Talking Point

If you were to describe the strengths and weaknesses of your school succinctly, what would you say to the HMI at the start of the short inspection?

Short inspections The short inspection day

- Schools receive half a day's notice, as at present.
- Every good school is different. There is no 'standard' short inspection timetable.
- Meeting the headteacher and leaders throughout the day.
- Gathering first hand evidence from observing learning and behaviour in lessons and around the school.
- Meetings with governors, leaders, staff and parents.
- Talking to pupils in lessons and at break/lunchtimes.
- Gathering evidence about the effectiveness of safeguarding – not just relating to statutory requirements, but all aspects of safeguarding.

Short Inspections

Film clip The end of the short inspection – final feedback

When will school leaders know if the inspection is converting?

Regular dialogue throughout the day, with a final decision usually no later than 4pm.

Does a conversion always mean that the overall effectiveness grade of the school will change?

 No! Once the additional evidence to complete a full section 5 inspection is gathered, inspectors may still find the school to be good.

Short inspections The inspection report

- If the school remains good and safeguarding is effective, the HMI will write a letter outlining the findings.
- The letter will be written to the headteacher, using language that is accessible for parents.
- If the short inspection converts to a section 5 inspection with a full team, the HMI will write a section 5 inspection report.
